ROMEO and JULIET

A Seasonal Play by the Gardner-Webb Dramatics Fraternity

Dr. Elliott in Fla.

Dr. Philip Lovin Elliott

President Phil Elliott is in Florida for the winter, taking his first rest since coming to Gardner-Webb 12 years ago. The executive committee of the board of trustees met on December 13 and granted him a leave of absence until March 15.

Dr. Elliott has been bothered by fatigue and a heart condition since late September. He was admitted to the clinic on October 29, but after a few days was back on the job. His physician, Dr. W. Wyan Washburn, requested an extended rest early in December, and recommended Florida because the warm weather is helpful to circulatory difficulties.

With the president in Florida is Mrs. Elliott. Phil, Jr. and Rachel took them during the Christmas holidays. Phil is a junior at Furman this year.

During her parents' absence Rachel is residing with Mrs. Dorothy W. Hamrick.

Appointed to the office of acting president during Dr. Elliott's absence is W. Lawson Allen, director of public relations. He has worked closely with the president since returning to Gardner-Webb in May of 1953, and is familiar with the duties that have befallen him.

BULLETIN: Word has just reached us from Florida that Dr. Elliott is much rested and is showing daily improvement in his health. In fact, Mrs. Elliott says he wants to return to work earlier than planned, but has been advised that it is best to take his full rest as prescribed.

Remarks from our Acting President

No doubt all of you have heard that President Elliott is in Florida taking a long over-due rest. All reports from him encourage us to believe that he is making progress toward a complete recovery. As Acting President in his absence, I covet your prayers for his total recovery, as God wills.

This has been a very successful year by all standards. Our enrollment stands near the 400 mark. Student spirit and attitude seem to be as fine as ever. The faculty are desperately striving to meet our problems. The launching of the GOLDEN ANNIVERSARY CAMPAIGN has enabled us to get our needs before numbers of people that we would not ordinarily touch. The Alumni Association is working toward the goal of securing at least $100,000 in the next three years for the Community Recreation Center. We have dreams, but we must stay awake to realize them and make them come true.

There is one question that poses for all our colleges a very challenging problem. According to the best authorities, our colleges will be faced with double the number of our present student body by 1970. We cannot stand still, for we will be left behind in our efforts to minister to this oncoming tide of students. We must be willing to do whatever is necessary. We must help the local churches in our area. We must emphasize Christian stewardship. We must keep ever before our people the needs of Gardner-Webb College.

ABOUT THE COVER

Eddie Hudson of Cramerton and Betty Staton of Charlotte played the roles of Romeo and Juliet in the Shakespearean Tragedy by that name presented by the Gardner-Webb Dramatics Department December 8-9-10. High School seniors from Cleveland, Rutherford and Gaston counties, and from bordering communities in South Carolina saw the play as guests of the college. The play was presented February 9 and 10 at Queens College in Charlotte on an exchange basis. Prof. J. Y. Hamrick is director of dramatics.

We are grateful for a host of interested alumni and friends who constitute the hope for the solution of the problems which face us. Pray that we may be found faithful in every area of activity, service, and need.

W. Lawson Allen
Acting President

Homecoming Observed October 30

Homecoming Day was observed at Gardner-Webb on October 30, with a talent show, barbecue, fellowship hour, and football game. Returning alumni were thrilled to see the Bulldogs clobber Asheville-Biltmore by a score of 26-6 in Shelby High stadium.

Entertainment for the old hands got underway with a talent show at 4 P. M. in the E. B. Hamrick Auditorium. Hubert C. Dixon was master of ceremonies, and talent was supplied by the students, faculty and alumni.

Following the talent show an outdoor barbecue was held on the hill overlooking the athletic field. Bill Allen of Shelby was caterer, and seemed to enjoy making sure all his customers got their money's worth. In fact, a few second helpings developed into third and fourth helpings.

Drawing many favorable comments were members of the college-community band, performing at halftime in their snappy new uniforms under the direction of Professor J. Y. Hamrick. Then came crowning of the Homecoming Queen, Miss Grace Rollins of Shelby, elected to this honor by the football squad.

Several hundred alumni returned for the game, and many of them took in all the festivities. Those sending reservations for the barbecue are listed below:

Wayne Sorrells, Betty Jean Emmett, Bill Bates, Peggy Summey, Richard Bass, Gail Baucom, Gail Thomas, Janice Wellman Wright, Nada Hester, Phil Elliott, Jr., Eddie Crapps, Dorothy M. Stubblefield, M. A. Conrad, Doris Harkey, Patricia Smith, Doris Upton, Marion Lineberger, Margaret Jackson, John G. Hicks, T. M. Linnens, Martha Gantt, Mrs. Charles Bridges, Mr. and Mrs. Marion W. Benfield, Martha Brooks, Joyce Whisnant, Marie Ferner, D. Fitzpatrick, and Delois Hamrick.

A LETTER FROM THE PRESIDENT OF OUR ALUMNI ASSOCIATION

Dear Fellow Alumni:

Writing to you takes me back to the pleasant days I spent as a student at Gardner-Webb. Not all of you were my classmates, but I feel that I have a special tie with each of you. That tie is Gardner-Webb College.

Here we used to work, study, play, worship, gripe, and laugh together in the close fellowship of college life. Many of us made a solemn vow that some day we would contribute something to the school out of gratitude for what it has done for us. Most of us promised each other at graduation time that we would surely get together for an annual reunion.

Mr. Forney

Soon it will be time for that annual reunion. The alumni banquet this year will be in May. Dress is optional, but gaiety and laughter are required.

Last year the Alumni Association voted to raise $100,000 by 1957 to erect a building named the Alumni Memorial Building. Anyone who wishes to contribute to this fund may send his cash or pledge contribution to the business manager at the college.

Robert R. Forney

Book of Memory Records 22 Memorials

During the period from September 1 through December 31, 1954, 22 memorials to deceased friends and loved ones were established through the Book of Memory at Gardner-Webb College.

Fifty people contributed to the establishment of these memorials, which accounted for a total income of $555.70. All contributions through this plan become a part of the permanent endowment fund for the college.

Dean J. O. Terrell, retiring president of the Cleveland County Schoolmasters Club, is shown congratulating his successor, Wayne Caudill, principal of Shelby Junior High School. Looking on is W. R. Gary, principal of Fallston school, who is club secretary.

GARDNER FAMILY OFFERS $25,000 CHALLENGE GIFT

The family of the late O. Max Gardner has offered a $25,000 challenge gift to Gardner-Webb for the Golden Anniversary expansion program.

The gift is from Mrs. O. Max Gardner, Ralph W. Gardner, and O. Max Gardner, Jr., through the O. Max Gardner Foundation, Incorporated. It is to be made available as soon as an equal amount is on deposit from other contributors.

Over $15,000 is already in hand, meaning that some $10,000 more will have to be raised to meet the requirements for the gift. Around $40,000 additional has been pledged, $36,000 of which is promised by the Boiling Springs Baptist Church.

In a letter to Dr. H. H. Stenbridge, Jr., Ralph W. Gardner states that it is hoped the Gardner gift

BOILING SPRINGS CHURCH PLEDGES $36,000 FOR CAMPAIGN

The Boiling Springs Baptist Church has pledged $36,000 to the Golden Anniversary Campaign over the next three years.

The action was taken by the church on January 9, having been recommended by the board of deacons. It was presented by Dan W. Moore, Jr., chairman of the deacon board.

Boiling Springs is the only Baptist church in North Carolina that can include Gardner-Webb in its budget for other than Christian Education Day contributions.

Although the church has a building program of its own in mind, it was the feeling of the membership that the expansion program of the college is more pressing.

will be used toward paying for a girls' dormitory.

RUTHERFORD COUNTY LEADERS TAKE ADMINISTRATION CLASSROOM BUILDING AS CAMPAIGN GOAL

A group of 100 Rutherford County business and civic leaders met for breakfast at the Spindale House January 24 and decided to take as their goal for the Golden Anniversary Campaign the erection of an administration-classroom building at Gardner-Webb College.

Dr. H. Hansel Stembridge, Jr., presided at the breakfast, and presented W. Lawson Allen, acting president. Mr. Allen outlined the history of Gardner-Webb, and pointed out the need for expansion so that the college can be of greater service.

Motion to secure funds for the building among Rutherford County industries and individuals was made by Oscar J. Mooneyham, Board Chairman of the Security Bank and Trust Company of Forest City and Rutherfordton. The motion was unanimously and enthusiastically approved.

The administration and classroom building will cost an estimated $142,000. It will house offices for the President and all administrative officers, conference and board rooms, and classrooms.

Coach Norman Harris is shown giving some pointers to prospects for the team of 1972. With the coach are, from the left, Mark Roberts, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Roberts; Ann Harris, daughter of Coach and Mrs. Harris, who says she would rather be a cheerleader; and Chris Dyer, son of Dr. and Mrs. Robert A. Dyer. Miss Saranan Morgan is holding Arthur Moseley, son of Mr. and Mrs. M. A. Moseley, Jr. The youngsters are children of faculty members.

Effort to Raise Suttle Memorial Endowment Will Begin In April

A drive will be launched in April to raise $100,000 endowment as a memorial to the Rev. John W. Suttle, who retired last year after more than 65 years as a Baptist preacher.

The proposed endowment is for the Church-Community Department, which offers counsel and assistance to churches in the greater Gardner-Webb area. One phase of this department's work is the adult education program which enrolls between 1,200 and 2,000 students annually.

These people study in schools held in associations throughout western North Carolina and upper South Carolina.

John William Suttle was born in Cleveland County, April 7, 1872. He began preaching at the age of 16, and at 19 was called to his first pastorate.

Rev. John W. Suttle

Since 1890 he has been pastor of 37 churches. For 28 years he was pastor of five to seven churches at all times. When he resigned his last two pastorates, Double Springs and Beaver Dam, he had served them 37 and 20 years respectively.

The "Little Preacher" as he is affectionately called, is known throughout the South for his leadership among rural churches. For 40 years he was moderator of the Kings Mountain Baptist Association, and in 1948 he was elected president of the Baptist State Convention.

A friend of Gardner-Webb College from its beginning, Rev. Suttle has been a trustee most of the time since 1913. He is sincerely interested in the college, and in the Church-Community Development program.

April 7 is the "Little Preacher's" 83rd birthday anniversary. Christian Education Day will be observed April 24 in most churches. Contributions can be made to the Suttle Memorial Endowment on Christian Education Day, or by mailing donations to "Suttle Memorial Endowment," in care of the college.
